Newport Playgoers Society ONE ACT PLAY-WRITING COMPETITION 2010

To celebrate Newport hosting the Ryder Cup 2010, Newport Playgoers Society, which owns and runs the city's 400-seater Dolman Theatre, is holding a competition aimed at encouraging the writing of plays for amateur theatre.

To enter the competition, playwrights are invited to submit one act plays on the theme of 'golf'. Plays should be between 20 - 30 minutes in length using a cast of 2 - 5 actors. In addition to a cash prize, the three best plays will be performed in the Dolman Studio Theatre for three nights culminating in a gala evening when prizes will be officially presented.

An Adjudication Panel appointed by Newport Playgoers Society will read and consider the plays entered in the competition and, in addition to arranging production of the plays at the Dolman Studio Theatre, will award the following prizes:

First Prize of £100
plus a Trophy

Second Prize of £50

Third Prize of £25
